Bold indicates course must be taken in this term.

*Underline indicates course should be taken in sequence. We allow exceptional cases with consultation with the department.

*Regular type indicates flexibility when course is taken.

An asterisk () indicates that a prerequisite exists for the course.

Spanish 310 is usually offered in Fall, and we recommend that students take it when it is offered.

Spanish 210/220 are offered in Spring, and we recommend that students take them when they are offered. These courses must be taken together as co-requisite courses.

We recommend that Spanish 201 and 210/220 should be taken freshman year, unless student has tested (by department exam) beyond them.
